

Scott Stover

Coach Stover has been the head coach at Solano College for over 20 years and is one of the winningest coaches in the entire state and is a member of the Solano Athletics Hall of Fame. As the head coach he has led the Falcons to a Bay Valley Conference-leading six conference titles in his 20 years, including five straight from 2007-2011. Solano captured its most recent BVC crown in 2015. Stover's 324 wins at Solano rank him second in school history behind Stan McWilliams, who coached from 1956-1986. The Falcons have broken a number of school records under Stover, including wins in a season (32), conference wins in a season (24) and team batting average (.339). He spent his playing days at CRC where he set the school record for homeruns. He then played baseball at Chico State and went on to play baseball professionally with the Reno Chukars. After his playing time was done he also coached several years at the professional level. Not only has Coach Stover had a successful career as a player and coach but he is also a successful teacher and focuses on off the field success for his students. He has continued his education to expand to many fields, he currently has a BA in Organizational Leadership, a MS in Sports Management and a MS in Applied Exercise Science. He is also the father to 3 children and was able to coach his son Tyler at Solano before he went on to play Division 1 baseball.
